Miniconference

Sustainable Customer Engagement

- Put sustainability into the heart of your sales and customer relations efforts

How can corporate responsibility and sustainability efforts be used to increase sales, build relationships with customers and ultimately contribute to global development goals in support of sustainable consumption?

Join our Autumn miniconference to get how-to insights and inspiration from: the social business expert who provides an overview of global sustainable customer engagement trends and cases; the fair trade organization that engages consumers to increase market demands for sustainable products; the laundering service company that builds sustainability into its value proposition to attract and retain business customers; the international expert who changes corporate and consumer behaviour through nudging and behavioural design.

Throughout the programme we will discuss, network and exchange experience and ideas of how you can put sustainability into your own sales and customer relations efforts.

Programme

Sustainable customer engagement – why & how?
