MINICONFERENCE

Geopolitics in Sustainability & Business

How are conflicts and warfare reshaping business ethics and corporate due diligence?

From supply chain disruptions and sanctions to increased operational costs, consumer boycotts, and employee activism, the world of geopolitics holds profound implications for business operations.

Join our Spring miniconference to get trends and cases on geopolitics in business seen through the lense of a sustainable business expert; a pension fund; a large retail company; and a due diligence professional.

Throughout the programme we will network and discuss how you can address geopolitical challenges through your sustainable business initiatives, enhancing both corporate resilience and ethical commitments.
